ATLANTA NOT LIKELY TO GET S. A. L. SHOPS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ATLANTA, GA., May 29.—The city and so no authoritative expression could be obtained from that company as to the possibility of having the shops in Atlanta instead of Portsmouth. If Mr. Williams were here he would probably feel a hesitancy in expressing himself, as Atlanta has not yet, so far as known in Richmond, made any overtures with view of getting the shops transferred to that city. The suggestion comes in the way of an editorial in an Atlanta paper, urging the city to give the Seaboard a site for the erection of its shops, turned in Portsmouth, but the city has taken no steps in that direction, so far as known.

It will be shown to King that by making a full and complete statement now he can possibly injure no one, provided, of course, he knows of any of the alleged crookedness.
